CITY OF FERNLEY BUILDING DEPARTMENT CODE ENFORCEMENT INFO:

What is Code Enforcement?

Code Enforcement officers provide for the safety, health, and welfare of citizens living and working in neighborhoods throughout the City of Fernley through enforcement of building, zoning, housing, environmental, nuisance and other codes and ordinances. These top questions and answers are provided to help assist in becoming a responsible property owner and prevent unsafe or offensive uses of property, while promoting and maintaining the quality of life in our community.

Can I park my RV, Boat, or Utility trailer on the street?

The City of Fernley Municipal Code states that in the case of recreational vehicles, travel trailers and boats, a 48-hour time period will be allowed for the purposes of loading and unloading, provided all vehicle and traffic regulations are complied with.

Can I park and/or store junk vehicles on my property?

No, no junk vehicles shall be parked or stored on a lot or parcel of land unless it is contained within a building or screened from view from a public street, road or alley by a solid fence, wall, or other similar structure.

Definition of Junk Vehicle- Junk vehicle means any car, truck, trailer, recreational vehicle, boat or other vehicle, or parts thereof, that is non-operational, unlicensed, disassembled or in disrepair.

Can I park or store a vehicle on the City street?

The City of Fernley Municipal Code allows vehicles to be parked on the street for a period of 72-hours. Moving a vehicle every (3) days a few feet will not avert a violation. All vehicles parked on the street must be currently registered and operable.

Can a person live in an RV on my property?

It is unlawful to reside in a recreational vehicle within the city unless the following conditions are met:

A temporary use permit must be applied for and approved along with the following regulations.

- The permittee owns the property on which the recreational vehicle is to be placed;
- The permittee has applied and been issued a permit to build a single-family dwelling for his own use on the property on which the recreational vehicle is to be placed; and
- The recreational vehicle is connected to water and sewer/septic facilities.

Please contact the City of Fernley Building Department for further information or questions at 775-784-9900
